CANDIDATE FORUMS SCHEDULED ACROSS CLERMONT COUNTY

Batavia, Ohio, August 25, 2008 – The Clermont County Democratic Party will host open candidate forums on five consecutive Monday evenings beginning on September 8th featuring candidates in countywide and district races.

Invitations will be extended to candidates representing both major political parties and independents. The event will be open to the public at no charge. Candidates and spectators will be advised of format and ground rules prior to the first forum.

“I would have to agree that the concept of a political party hosting an event and inviting the opposition is extremely unorthodox. However, I think it is essential that the public get a good idea about what these candidates represent and whether they deserve to be elected or re-elected,” said Dave Lane, Democratic Party Chairman.

Following is the forums schedule. All forums begin at 7:00 pm. Additional information can be gleaned by visiting www.ClermontDems.org.
